INTRODUCTION

Every organization in achieving the goals that have been proclaimed or set previously will be successful if the organization can make a plan. Without a good plan, the organization will likely fail, or at least in achieving these goals will experience something unexpected, in the form of enormous costs and energy. This is because planning essentially determines what will be done, and how and who will do it before the work itself is carried out (Fadhli, 2020; Wijaya, 2017).

(Budi, 2020; Mukhlasin, 2020) A series of management processes that have a very urgent role in the development of an organization is planning. Because planning is one of the first and foremost functions in management. Talking about planning, you will find various forms and variations, such as goals, policies, procedures, and programs, but keep in mind that regardless of its form, planning will play a very important role in the development of an organization, including strategic planning or English. English is known as strategic planning. Strategic planning is becoming increasingly important for managers, especially in determining the main objectives with the intent and mission as a means to achieve them, providing a long-term basic framework for the form of strategic planning. Strategic planning itself can be interpreted as a process of selecting organizational goals that are the targets of management, determining policies and programs needed to achieve certain goals to achieve goals and determining the methods needed to ensure that the policies in this strategic program can be implemented (Utami, 2021).

RESULT AND DISCUSSION
Stages of Organizational Communication Planning in Preparing Da'i Cadres in Dayah Jamiah Al-Aziziyah Batee Iliek

a. Audience analysis

The steps we took at the beginning of the establishment of this educational institution were to develop a vision and mission. This thing is a future development so that this Dayah can become a center of achievement education in realizing scholars, intellectuals, and practitioners who are knowledgeable and have noble character. The steps we take are:

1) Provide education based on aqidah ahlussunnah wal jama'ah and worship based on fiqh Syafi’iyyah.
2) Educate and foster piety of students and the ummah through faith, knowledge, charity, and da'wah bil-hikmah wal-mau' idhatil- hasanah.
3) Strengthen, maintain and maintain Islamic values under the understanding of the salafush-shalih scholars.
4) Creating a generation of people who are independent and able to work within the framework of Faith, Islam, and Ihsan.

In compiling the mission so that whatever we plan is under what the community wants, in compiling this vision we also present stick holders consisting of community leaders and guardians of students who can represent several regions in Aceh. Each of them conveys the inspiration following intent and purpose. The next step that we take is to work with the MUDI Dayah of the Samalanga Grand Mosque which is related to teaching staff.

The results of this collaboration have yielded maximum results, in which since the first year of its establishment Dayah Jamiah Batee Iliek has been sent teaching staff from Dayah MUDI as additional caretakers apart from the teachers who have settled in Dayah Jamiah itself. So with the help of the teacher, we can run the programs that we include in the vision and mission.

To achieve this program, so Each teacher is given the task of nurturing the students according to their respective expertise. Our students from the first year of acceptance of new students until now consist of three levels of education, namely SMP, SMK, and lectures. In our future program, when they graduate, they will not only hold a formal diploma, but they must be able to appear in society to spread Islamic da'wah. In future programs, they will also become cadres as teachers who can educate the next generation.

b. Determination Destination

The goal to be achieved in the science development program is to realize graduates who can understand Islamic science and can practice it in everyday life. Furthermore, what is highly expected from the students is that the knowledge they already have can protect and direct the community by religious demands and be able to solve all kinds of religious problems faced by the community.

c. Media Selection

The first media that was prepared was to convey shari'ah messages through the pulpit because it was a religious need such as Friday sermons and other sermons. Second, social needs such as releasing bodies and other ceremonial events. They are expected to be able to convey da'wah messages through recitations for all levels (children, youth, adults, and people if needed). Preaching using social media has also begun to be taught. Following this activity’s queue at Dayah Al- Aziziyah Batee Iliek in ICT development.

It is hoped that the graduates will be able to take part in society following technological developments, so they are taught computers and networks, multimedia and electronics when they are in Dayah. So that they can reach not only through the pulpit but also through social media and it is hoped that they will become YouTubers in the context of developing Islam in the future.

d. design Message

About message design, we do it continuously, either in formal education or non-formal education ( dayah ). In training their language skills, they can study at mabna language about how to use good language in society. As for rhetoric, they can study in lectures and also in muhadharah lessons (speech exercises) every Friday night which is regulated by the public relations department of Dayah Jamiah Al-Aziziyyah Batee Iliek.

In speech practice, students are divided into several groups according to their respective regions and are trained by teachers who come from that area as well. In the practice of giving speeches, students are trained to first understand and master the message they want to convey according to the title given. They are also trained in good language and style according to the prepared message.

e. Program Evaluation

Activities at Dayah Jamiah Al-Aziziyyah Batee Iliek every Friday morning held an evaluation meeting of all the planned programs. The meeting discussed the results that have been achieved and the obstacles that occur in the field. In a meeting, every morning Friday that is attended by the senior Dayah teachers Association Batee Iliek is led directly by the leader Dayah alone. The meeting also discusses the weekly program. DISCUSSION

Organizational communication planning is a formulation of what will be achieved and what actions will be taken to achieve the goal of forming the santri at Dayah Jamiah Batee Iliek to become a da'i. as an effort to prepare da'i cadres at Dayah Jamiah Batee Iliek communication planning is meant a written statement of a series of descriptions of actions about how a communication activity will or should be carried out to achieve behavioral change as expected (Mustofa, 2018; Nofrion, 2018; S, 2007).

The Muhādarah activity as a communication activity is carried out at Dayah Jamiah Batee Iliek to create prospective dā'ī who have competence and skills, and have a far-sighted vision. Judging from the initial idea, the emergence of the implementation of Muhādarah, especially in Dayah Jamiah Al-Aziziyah Batee Iliek, is very relevant. From this context, it has a meaning that the implementation of Muhādarah can build a very good communication plan and answer the needs of prospective da'i.

Regarding the purpose of the Muhādarah carried out, it is to realize da'i who can master the material to be conveyed and also have the ability to convey messages of Islamic teachings through lectures. Goals like this are very good, but there are still many shortcomings in good implementation in training the mentality of the students or mastery of the material. This deficiency is caused by the lack of mudābbir professional (coach).

Referring to the structure of the Dayah Jamiah Al-Aziziyah Batee Iliek, the implementation of the Muhādarah program is under the supervision of the Public Relations section. Judging from the management system, Dayah Jamiah Al-Aziziyah Batee Iliek already has good management in managing the curriculum and its implementation. The leader's job is to regulate and supervise. The one who runs it is the head of the section under the leadership (Hasbi & Amiruddin, 2008; Kahar, 2021).

Muhādarah activities are carried out on Friday night after the Isha prayer and this has become a standard rule in Dayah Jamiah Al-Aziziyah Batee Iliek which cannot be contested anymore. Muhādarah activities are carried out on Friday nights to realize worship that is different from other nights. Furthermore, on Friday night the book recitation activity was abolished (holiday) but was replaced with Muhādarah (Fitriani, 2020).

The students at Dayah Jamiah Al-Aziziyah Batee Iliek in mastering the da’wah material to be conveyed have been very good, especially for students who already can understand the books they have studied. As for the students who do not understand the book well or have not been able to do it at all, they are assisted by senior students in each tribe or some are guided directly by the gure peu repeat.

The efforts made by the mudābbir like this are indeed very good, re-examining and improving the materials that have been prepared by the santri to be adapted to the given title. The students appear on a predetermined night by not reading the text. This method is good because it is not tied to the text and can also train students in processing materials that have been prepared according to the conditions where the da’wah takes place.

The implementation of Controlling Muhādarah activities at Dayah Jamiah Al-Aziziyah Batee Iliek is that during the Muhādarah activity, each group is accompanied by a mudābbir to oversee the running of the Muhādarah activity. The Mudābbir who controls the running of the activities conditions the students who take part in the Muhādarah activities to pay attention to the da’i (students on duty) and evaluates each student who appears and then gives direction to the deficiencies found.

The languages used in the implementation of Muhādarah on Dayah Jamiah Al-Aziziyah Batee Iliek are Indonesian, Arabic, and English. Muhādarah in these two foreign languages is carried out by all tribes within the Dayah Jamiah Al-Aziziyah Batee Iliek environment. Muhādarah in these two languages is only carried out by students who are actively learning Arabic and English. Hereby shows that the training of Muhādarah in Arabic and English is still implemented.

In terms of language, Muhādarah is something very important according to the level of language used and understood by the listener. Even language is an art in itself that must be possessed by da‘i to give more impression to the message conveyed. This language is very urgently owned by the dā‘i before conveying the message of Muhādarah. In implementation Muhādarah which is preceded by the use of good language that has been prepared will form a preacher who is ready to appear in front of the public. Indirectly, it has an impact on the effectiveness of the Muhādarah that is carried out. Thus, in terms of a good and appropriate language, as well as having the artistic value of language, will determine the quality of a person’s dā‘i (Firdaus, 2018).

Implementation evaluation carried out Mudabbir at Dayah Jamiah Al-Aziziyah Batee Iliek is very influential to achievement success student. This thing shows that built interaction Between Mudabbir and students has given a good contribution in prepare Students the become figure quality preachers. Evaluation This is done to find the shortcomings that can be improved in the future.

Every student who appeared to preach in implementation Muhādarah did an assessment by mudabbir, it means Mudabbir has a role important as designer activity planning communication in To do evaluation activity students, while Students that alone as a subject from implementation planning communication that has been set. An assessment carried out Mudabbir to students who appear in good luck has to give an impact positive and significant influence on a student at Dayah Jamiah Al- Aziziyah Batee I like to prepare herself Becomes da‘i. This thing is proven in results percentage on each obtained indicator Students with category score good. From the description above clear planning communication has made the students find teak themselves so that implementation of the supervised blessing Mudabbir give results in creating reliable da‘i in Dayah Jamiah Al- Aziziyah Batee Iliek. This thing is conducted by the theory of communication penetration social use.

Muhadara program must be continued and nurtured properly. With this program, it is very helpful for dayah graduates when they are in the community. On the other hand, any deficiencies that occur in the implementation of muhaarah must be avoided and immediately find a solution to prevent, so as not to give birth to the dā‘i who are not competent. Incompetent dā‘i are caused by several things, including not having broad insight, very poor mastery of the material, delivery of material that is not following the conditions of the local community, and so on. Incompetent dâ'i will bring division to society. This deviates greatly from the basic aim of Islamic da'wah itself.

The use of media as a communication tool influences the implementation of muhaarah. The media that is meant in this context is as equipment to support muhaarah training. Using the media in the form of a hand cam will affect the appearance of the students. Next, by looking at and evaluating the performances of the candidate for dâ'i. The tribes or groups of muhaarah in a dayah, must prioritize adequate funding sources as well to allow using a variety of media. Implications to the effectiveness of the muhaarah carried out and the expected results will be achieved optimally.

Mudabbir commits to planning communication through the implementation of this muhadara, so that prospective da'i have equal abilities by giving equal opportunities to appear without subjectivity in determining participants and the topics raised. For those who have talent and other basic abilities, there is no need for private coaching efforts, but they are immediately scheduled periodically. Meanwhile, for beginners, emphasis is placed on appearing first as a ta'âruf who introduces himself, his origin, family, and educational background. When viewed from the point of view of lecturing training, it gives meaning to guidance in stages according to the basic competencies that students already have.

3 things are most urgent noticed in practice candidate da'i. First; practice student mentality. Implementation of good luck is formed habituation Students in mentally trained in front of the audience. Second, mastery of the material; After having a strong mentality, students are accustomed to taking lecture materials from the books or books they have studied, not taking it directly from da'wah guidebooks or memorizing the contents of other people's speeches. The third is to practice style and art, both the art of language and the art of dressing.

From the description of the discussion above clear existence of Mudabbir To do guidance, direction, and supervision in activity directional has to give a contribution to success planning communication that has been designed. Interaction capable awaken spirit Students prepare themselves as candidate da'i.

CONCLUSION

Careful organizational communication planning can generate accommodated activities, because organizational communication planning provides a direction for achieving the expected goals, namely preparing students to become reliable da'i. And vice versa if there is no organizational communication plan designed, it will not work well and will not be systematic. So that it produces a job or results that are not optimal. In preparing da'i cadres, communication planning includes; audience analysis, goal setting, media selection, message design, and program evaluation. Implementation of organizational communication planning in preparing da'i cadres at Dayah Jamiah Al-Aziziyah Batee Iliiek was carried out in the form of muhadharah (speech training). The implementation process includes; Planning (planning), Actuating (Implementation), controlling (supervision), and evaluation (assessment). These four elements are benchmarks for the successful implementation of organizational communication planning in preparing da'i cadres in Dayah Jamiah Al-Aziziyah Batee Iliiek. The implications of organizational communication planning show that Dayah Jamiah Al-Aziziyah's students won second place in the Bireuen district in a speech competition and were able to make a short film, you tuber. This shows that Dayah Jamiah Al-Aziziyah has been able to create students who are ready to compete in every competition.
